ABOUT THE SERIES

One man, one mission:
Find God

What if everything in your life fell apart in one dark night of the soul? What if within 24 hours of trying to end your life, an unexpected calling materialized in front of your eyes? A calling so powerful it consumed your entire existence. A calling that asked you to connect with something bigger than yourself in order to save your life. Would you follow it?

This is the story of Leon Logothetis, a stockbroker who left everything behind to pursue fame. A pursuit that despite leading to successful books and TV shows, national talk show appearances and countless human connections around the world, just wasn't enough. Fame came at a price. His pursuit left him full of doubt, self-deprecating vices and eventually depression so unbearable he decided to take his life.

He wrote what he thought was the last letter of his life. He laid out the plan and cast the dye. Out of desperation he warned a longtime friend of his plan. He threw a lifeline into the dark and the universe replied by putting him in an existential corner with only one way out. That friend asked Leon to do something he had been fighting his entire life: to have faith. What happened next lead him on an exploration in search of salvation, hope and answers to free him from the doubt that nearly cost him his life.

The next day at a beachside bookstore his eyes were drawn to one of the most spiritual books of all time "Autobiography of a Yogi". A book that tells the story of Yogananda, a lost man looking for answers through his lifelong pursuit of God in India. Leon opened it to a random page where Yogananda offered his complete unquestioned obedience to a holy man if he promised to reveal God to him. That was the moment that catapulted the adventure.

Instantly Leon knew he had no choice. He left everything behind, went to India, and searched for God. He decided to put all his preconceived notions about religion aside and fearlessly looked for answers.

He crossed over 5,000 miles of India absorbing the climate, the culture and the spirituality that makes the country one of the most incredibly unique places on earth. He joined the holy Hindu pilgrimage of Kwar Yatra alongside the orange gownned pilgrims who trekked for miles to bathe in the holy water of the Ganges river

Under the light of the stars he experienced the power of belonging whilst praying amongst hundreds of Muslim worshipers at a Sufi mosque

In the bustling city of Mumbai he talked to a Rabbi about the connecting power of faith as he sat in the ornate 136-year-old Kneset Eliyahu Synagogue

He walked the hot, smoke-filled halls of "God's kitchen" at the Sikh Golden Temple where being of service brings you closer to God and he helped feed some of the 100,000 people that get selflessly fed for free there every day

In a small dirt courtyard that doubled as a classroom he witnessed the humility of a Christian church as he saw unpaid volunteers give unconditional love and education to impoverished children in one of India's poorest neighborhoods.

In the rain slicked, tight mountain roads of Dharmshala he visited the exiled home of his Holiness the Dalai Lama and meditated amongst chanting Buddhist monks.

He danced to exhaustion with colorfully dressed practitioners in a marble temple of the Hari Krishna

At a riverside ashram while hundreds of worshippers prayed in unison to the setting sun, Leon sat alone with an Indian holy man who blessed his journey with an immersive message

And in southern India in the monkey filled jungle campus of the Krishnamurti, he sat in a communal circle with 5 wise elders and discussed the intricacies of a philosophical movement that questions everything about traditional religion.

Despite the experiences of connectedness all over India, Leon's final journey was that of internal self-exploration into the darkness that brought him on his adventure and the light that can come from looking inwards whilst in complete solitude. Only one question remained: Did he find god?

Reveal God To Me

is a story about a lost soul willing to do anything to free himself from suffering. A man who pushes himself physically, emotionally and mentally as he looks for universal answers and shares these answers with the world.

YOUR JOURNEY

This personal story is not just Leon's, it's yours.

How many of us live our life with fear? We question our career path, our relationships and our everyday choices. This fear cripples us from becoming the best version of ourselves. The journey hopes to show that you are not alone in this fear. And in order to move past it, all you have to do is become a seeker that questions the status quo of your life and looks for fulfilling answers.

The trip was documented to show you the visual journal of an everyday person's immersion into the divine. It proves how jumping headfirst into your own seeking journey can help you answer questions people have been asking themselves for centuries. It will push you to be of service to your own needs and desires whilst still connecting and helping those around you by transcending the things that hold you back. This story had to be shared with you to challenge your inner seeker and help you overcome your inner fears.

The Masters

In parallel to Leon's personal spiritual journey, the emotional and personal life-changing stories of experts serve as a guiding voice for our own discovery. The advice from people of many faiths, spiritual leaders, scientists and life coaches are interwoven in the series to shed light on the why behind our search for answers.

Using the teachings of people who have spent their entire lives seeking and finding truths we question age old answers and start seeking new ones. Voices like Mike Dooley (The Secret), Neale Donald Walsch (Author of "Conversations with God"), Kute Blackson (Author of "You. Are. The. One."), and Sadhguru (Founder of the Isha Foundation), will show us the arc of the human spirit from rock bottom to finding our true potential.

You may still be asking why God? Reveal God To Me asks you why not?
